

Rates cowboys could saddle you with problems for years to come

Since the new rates revaluation came into effect on 1 April this year, it has continued to be a financial headache for non-domestic property owners. Businesses are increasingly being targeted with relentless and often questionable marketing strategies, including misleading telemarketing, deceptive direct mail and spam.

Many have fallen foul of additional charges or draconian contracts, with little in the way of legal legislation to fall back on

In order to ensure you are fully informed and able to make the best decision for your business regarding rates, ask yourself the questions below:

- Will appeal of my rateable value benefit me and can I save money?
- Where does my rates advice come from? Am I using a 'rates cowboy'?
- What could it cost me?
